

Center for African Studies

Fall 2016 Colloquium

Wednesdays, 12:30 – 2:00 PM

*223 Moses Hall

September 7

Prospects for Rural Electrification in Africa

Ted Miguel

Professor, Economics

September 14

African Landscapes of New Slavery

Ugo Nwokeji

Associate Professor, African American Studies

September 21

Dislocation and Delivery: The Politics of Housing in Post-Apartheid Cape Town

Zachary Levenson

PhD Student, Sociology

September 28

Follow Your Leader: Party Kingpins and Candidate Selection in Africa

Danny Choi

PhD Student, Political Science

October 5

City Under Siege: Migration and Public Goods in Urban Ghana

Jeffrey Paller

Assistant Professor, Politics, University of San Francisco

October 12

The Political Logic of Electrification in Post-Conflict Uganda

David Dow

PhD Student, Political Science

October 19

Dilemmas and Challenges of Doing Feminist

Ethnography in 21st Century Angola

Selina Makana

PhD Student, African American Studies

October 26

De-Sexualizing the African Girl: The Making of the 'Child' in Colonial East Africa

Corrie Decker

Associate Professor, History, UC Davis

November 2 (Room Change: 119 Moses Hall)

A Fraught Embrace: The Romance and Reality of AIDS Altruism in Africa

Ann Swidler

Professor, Sociology

November 9

Manufactured Scarcity? The Politics of Urban Water Reform and Infrastructure Finance in African Cities

Charisma Acey

Assistant Professor, City and Regional Planning

November 16 (Room Change: 119 Moses Hall)

Courts After Coups: The Long-Term Development of Law and Order in Africa

Fiona Shen-Bayh

PhD Student, Political Science

December 7

Why and how we should rethink the Senegalese democratic model

Abdourahmane Seck

Professor, Université Gaston Berger, Senegal